Virginia: America's First Frontier May 13 – 15, 2022

Wilderness Road State Park acknowledges the sensitive nature of cultural interpretation of indigenous peoples and seeks to provide authentic and respectful programs. We encourage members of federally and state recognized Native American tribes to participate in our unique and diverse programming. As in the past, all interpretive volunteers are subject to approval by a jury process, ensuring historical accuracy. Beginning in 2022, all volunteer applicants participating as Native American interpreters will be juried by a member of the Eastern Band of the Cherokee who is acting as the park's consultant to ensure appropriate standards concerning historical authenticity and cultural integrity are maintained.
